In Memoriam

Myron Robb, December 2017: Proceeded in death by his wife, Judy. Myron was a past president of the American Bloodhound Club, and he and Judy were honorary ABC members. The ABC/PRBC 2018 Regional Specialty has been dedicated to Myron's memory.

Steve Passé, July 2017: Proceeded in death by his wife, Chris Toepel. Steve and Chris were very active in search and rescue and in bloodhound rescue and re-homing. Gus, their last living bloodhound, is owned and loved by Sid and Lynn Harty.

Bloodhound Rescue Update

Meet the absolutely fabulous Miss Bella. This sweet natured, seven-year-old bloodhound has a heart as big as her ears and is looking for a forever home call her own. Bella is an absolute gem of a dog – super social, gentle and calm. She loves people, is perfect in the car, and has lived happily with other dogs and even horses and goats. She admits to loving feathered friends a bit too much, so no chickens for this girl.

Like many dogs who come into rescue, Bella has had 3 homes that were lost through no fault of her own, and she is aching for a special someone who has time to give her the love and the exercise she needs and who will be dedicated to making her a center part of their life. Fenced yard is a must so she can't follow her nose! Contact VIPP at (206) 389-1085 or email dogs@vippp.org.

From the *North Coast News
“Bloodhounds on Trail of Busy Events Month”
Tue Oct 10th, 2017 9:55 am

Becky Irving and Clara

The primary tourist season may be over, but October has produced a busy month for the Ocean Shores Convention Center with an eclectic mix of private and public events, some new and others returning annual favorites on the North Coast.

There's the first time for the “Bloodhound Beach Bash,” which will occupy the entire Convention Center from Oct. 10-14.

This is an American Bloodhound Club (ABC) “National Specialty” dog show, plus a Regional Specialty show and several other event elements, including two days of bloodhound trailing activities in and around Ocean Shores.

The last two days will be open to the public.

The event is produced by the Pacific Rim Bloodhound Club (PRBC), which has members in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, California, British Columbia, and Alberta, Canada.

Show chairperson Cindy Wolfrom of Carnation said she expects 80 or more dogs and about twice as many humans to participate in the event.

A dozen or so bloodhounds, plus their human handlers, are expected for the trailing events, on Monday and Tuesday, October 9 and 10. “People in Ocean Shores will definitely notice some bloodhounds around town those days,” Wolfrom said.

The main room at the Convention Center will be set up for a traditional competitive dog show, as the site of four days of various competitions.

Wednesday, October 10 will see a futurity event for breeders and an invitational “Top 20” event and catered banquet.

Thursday, October 11 will feature “veterans” events for dogs age seven and older, several puppy events, and a PRBC birthday party.

The “National Specialty” is a national level, once-a-year set of events specifically for bloodhounds taking place Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Event categories include Juniors, Veteran Classes, Dog & Bitch Classes, Best of Breed and Non-Regular Classes. A “Regional Specialty” with similar content is set for Saturday, from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

These two days are open to the public, with admission by donation. A private, catered banquet will take place Friday evening.

Wolfrom said the selection of Ocean Shores was based on the Convention Center being large enough to host the event and having available dates, and her personal knowledge of the area as being very dog friendly.

And she knew there is some logistical and prep help available here, since her step-father is local artist and bloodhound lover Larry Walden.

More information on the Bloodhound Beach Bash can be found online at

 By Scott D. Johnston for GH Newspaper Group

Scott D. Johnston | For GH Newspaper Group Deb Thomas-Blake of South Aberdeen is participating in next week's events with her bloodhound, Hitch.

Ocean Shores will be overrun with bloodhounds this coming week.

The Bloodhound Beach Bash will take place from Monday through Saturday at the Convention Center and beyond. This is an American Bloodhound Club National Specialty dog show, plus a Regional Specialty show and several other event elements.

Monday and Tuesday will involve outdoor exercises in what bloodhounds are famous for: trailing. The week will culminate in formal dog shows Friday and Saturday, which will be open to the public.

The event is produced by the Pacific Rim Bloodhound Club (PRBC), which has members in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, California, British Columbia and Alberta. Show chairwoman Cindy Wolfrom of Carnation said she expects 80 or more dogs and about twice as many humans to participate in the event.

A dozen or so bloodhounds, plus their human handlers, are expected for the trailing events. “People in Ocean Shores will definitely notice some bloodhounds around town those days,” Wolfrom said.

Among the participants are Deb Thomas-Blake of South Aberdeen and her bloodhound, Hitchcock (“Hitch” to his friends). They also help with area search and rescue activities, and she operates the local nonprofit Harbor Rescue, which provides animal rescue, care and fostering for about 150 animals in the area each year.

Wednesday will see a futurity event for breeders and an invitational “Top 20” event and catered banquet. Thursday will feature “veterans” events for dogs ages seven and older, several puppy events, and a PRBC birthday party.

The “National Specialty” — a national level, once-a-year set of events specifically for bloodhounds — will take place Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Event categories include Juniors, Veteran Classes, Dog & Bitch Classes, Best of Breed and Non-Regular Classes.

A Regional Specialty show with similar content is set for Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to noon. These two days are open to the public, with admission by donation. A private, catered banquet will take place Friday evening.

Wolfrom said the selection of Ocean Shores was based on the Convention Center being large enough to host the event and having available dates, and her personal knowledge of the area as being very dog-friendly. And she knew there is some logistical and prep help available here, since her stepfather is local artist and bloodhound lover Larry Walden.

PRBC donations will be requested for admission to the Friday and Saturday dog shows.

The “weather gods” provided us with spectacular weather, just perfect for working dogs, with cool, dewy mornings and sunny afternoons in the 60’s.

Entrants and their bloodhounds traveled from Washington, Oregon, California, and North Carolina to participate. Ten trails were run over two days—seven of which were successful—a 70% pass rate!

Judges also traveled from far and wide to help out—thank you to Jan Rothwell (NH), Don Ozee (IL), Suzi Paine (WA), Michael and Molly Nye (NC), and Janet Kelly (NJ), who also served as Trial Chair. Cindy Wolf from (WA) was an alternate judge, and was invaluable with logistics and arranging trail-layers. Darla Watkins and Deb Blake also assisted with transport and securing trail-layers. Thank you so much!

It is impossible to put on a trial without the efforts of our many trail-layers, who were fortunate to have wonderful weather while sitting and waiting to be found by a hound—a heartfelt “thank-you” to Richard Stansberry, Cheryl Cromeenes, Pam Herranz, Jennifer Hafer, Jeremy Berlet, Tim Chalupnik, Shay and Dave Jones, Donna Abbott, Lisa Kelly, and Lynn Harty. You are appreciated more than you could ever know!

During the week, there were four successful EECT’s—thank you, Bryan Flessner and Cheryl Cromeenes, for your help with these trails. Congratulations go out to:

Follow The Daisy Hunt, “Daisy” and Jennifer Hafer
Flessner’s Oops I Did It Again, “Brittani” and Christina Flessner
Skipton’s Times a Wasting, “Dickens” and Steve Kirshner
Nunya’s Let Her Work Like A Charm, “Lettie” and Janis Hardy

This trial was a great “opening act” to an absolutely fantastic National Specialty! Hope to see everyone at an upcoming event, allowing our bloodhounds “to do what they were bred to do”. Happy trails!

Editor’s Note: Janet Kelly, chair of the National Trailing Trial, and Jennifer Hafer, new EECT titlist, both passed their Canine Good Citizen tests at the National with Janet’s “Steeler” (GCH CH Wynbrook Apogee Ironclad Oath MTX ) and Jennifer’s “Daisy” (Follow The Daisy Hunt).
Congratulations, Janet and Steeler and Jen and Daisy!

Bloodhound Beach Bash Retrospective: The 2017 ABC National Specialty and Northwest Regional Reported by Lynn Harty

From October 9 through October 13, 2017, the American Bloodhound Club offered its forty-second National Specialty. Hosted by the Pacific Rim Bloodhound Club, the 2017 specialty was held at Ocean Shores, WA, the ABC's sixth Pacific Northwest venue for a National. A Regional Specialty on October 14 provided a fine conclusion to the week.

Getting to such a remote corner of the United States was not exactly a walk around the park for 53 Bloodhounds, with a total of 97 entered, along with their two-legged companions. Located on the Point Brown Peninsula on the southwest corner of Washington State, the town of Ocean Shores is known for its long Pacific beaches, dramatic sunsets, kitschy shops, and dog-loving community. What the region isn't known for is good weather in October, when driving wind and rain are common. This year, however, luck was with us, with mild and often sunny weather providing the perfect backdrop for six lively days packed with fun events. The Shilo Inn and the Ocean Shores Convention Center provided great amenities for this specialty venue.

Throughout the week, exhibitors were greeted in the ring by a remarkable group of judges: Christopher Cornell (Rally), Wendy Musgrove (Futurity Stake), Ellen Kroll (Puppy and Veteran Sweepstakes), Laura Pond (National Junior Showmanship), Camille McArdle (National Breed), Kristi Mann (Regional Breed and Junior Showmanship), and Karen Dewey, Bill Russell, and Pam Sage (Top Twenty Invitational).

The fun began with the National Specialty Trailing Trial on Monday and Tuesday, October 9 and 10. This event was dedicated to the memory of Ray Schmitt, whose years as an ABC mantrailing judge and, with his wife Kay, as a search-and-rescue volunteer and a PRBC member, will long be remembered. As noted by TT Event Chair Janet Kelly, seven teams earned MT and MTI titles, as did four EECT teams, and all will be ready to tackle more trailing challenges in the near future. The trailing trial was followed by a welcome reception on October 10, giving everyone the chance to meet, greet, and reconnect with new and old friends from around the country.

Wednesday, October 11, brought a full day of activities, including Rally and Futurity judging, a seminar by ABC National Trailing Trial Committee Chair Jan Rothwell, and the ABC's thirteenth Top Twenty Invitational competition. In the Rally Advanced B and Rally Excellent B classes, onlookers had the pleasure of watching Teresa Mullens and Bloodhound Lula Maple Leap The Moon RA AX AXJ ("Lula") dominate some very complex precision healing patterns. Judge Christopher Cornell went out of his way to explain the principles of rally to a good-sized group of spectators. Lula qualified in both classes and won the high combined award to much acclaim and cheering from the audience!

Jan Rothwell's "Gaining Your Bloodhound's Attention" seminar drew a group of enthusiastic participants, many with Bloodhounds in tow and with lots of questions to ask. Jan advocates working with Bloodhounds of all ages in short and successful training sessions. The short version of her training philosophy is this: "Dogs get it. We are the problem!" Well said, Jan, and thanks for a very informative and enjoyable seminar. Many of us will be phoning you for more advice.

"Be Inspired," the 2017 Top Twenty Invitational, showcased the beauty and correctness of eight of the nation's top Bloodhounds, with judges Karen Dewey, Pam Sage, and Bill Russell providing their considerable combined judging expertise. This year's Top Twenty Invitational was dedicated to the memory of Fritz Schmidt, Great Grimpen Mire kennels, an honorary member of the ABC with more than 40 years of membership in the club, including serving as its president from 1986 to 1988.

Thursday, October 12, began with a judges' education seminar presented by Susan Hamil. Included in the two

-hour seminar was a mantrailing demonstration by Becky Irving and GCH Jo-Li's Searching for Oz ("Clara") to illustrate how form follows function in our breed. Next came Puppy and Veteran Sweepstakes, followed by an Itty Bitty Puppy Match, and Bloodhounds from the exuberance of youth to the dignity of old age brought a tear to many an eye.

Friday, October 13, was a very lucky day for all of us who showed in and watched the National Specialty judging of Junior Showmanship, the Regular and Non-Regular classes, and Best of Breed competition. The 2017 ABC National Specialty was dedicated, in celebration and loving memory, to the life and contributions of Anne LeHew Legge, who, at the age of 84, left us much, much too soon. Anne's ongoing commitment to Bloodhounds and the American Bloodhound Club defies description. She was, quite simply, a force of nature, and there will never be another like her.

Saturday, October 14, our final day of judging, was reserved for the ABC's 2017 Northwest Regional Specialty. What a treat it was to see such a fine contingent of Bloodhounds in the ring for a second day. Pacific Northwesterners especially loved seeing our own Kristi Mann doing the judging honors. A Seattle native and a protégé of Jackie Sinkinson, Kristi began her life with Bloodhounds when she was only twelve. That happy occurrence launched her on a professional and personal path of loving and showing Bloodhounds, Shi Tzu and many other breeds, always with grace, style, and a sense of humor.

No National Specialty retrospective would be complete without mentioning the week's added attractions: the wonderful apparel and merchandise for sale, the ever-popular raffles and live auction, the scrumptious banquets, Chuck-a-Duck, Bingo Night, and a 21st birthday party for the Pacific Rim Bloodhound Club. PRBC members, we have finally come of age!

To Cindy Wolfrom, Barb Copeland, Michael and Molly Nye, Mary Lou Olszewski, Lynn Aguirre, Suzi Paine, Tina Kocar, Sheri Whetstine, Janet Kelly, Becky Irving, Lyn Sherman, Susan Hamil, Jan Rothwell, Corky and Darla Watkins, Deb Thomas-Blake, Brittany Buchanan, Pam Herranz, Aldo and Diane Branch, Bryan and Chris Flessner, and Myron Robb: thank you for your hard work and support. We look forward to seeing everyone at "Follow the Freedom Trail," the 2018 American Bloodhound Club National Specialty with Regional, September 23 – 28, hosted by the Colonial Bloodhound Club. See you in 2018!

Editor's Note: The American Bloodhound Club has approved the following 2017 National Specialty and Northwest Regional Specialty financial reports, submitted by show chair Cindy Wolfrom. We can only congratulate Cindy and offer heartfelt thanks to her for her world-class sweat equity, financial acumen, and dedication to PRBC and the ABC in bringing about such an outstanding week of events.
